

River

Rivers how old are you now?
Are you one hundred years old?
No, I am older
Oh, river oh, river where have you been
I flowed through dinosaur tracks
Oh, river oh, river where have you been
I have been to many places

~ Sheyla

River, River how are you?
Oh, how I wish to meet you!
River, how does it feel to have people and fish swimming in and on you?
I bet you get tickled
by every fish that's in you!

~ Jaileen

I wish I could go back in time
To see the dinosaurs.
BIG DINOSAURS, small dinosaurs,
Leaving their footprints in the mud.
Boom! Squish!
Boom! Squish!
Where are you going mighty dinosaur?
I wish I could go with you!

~ Giovanni, Clisanthro, and Virginia

I wish I were a fish spawning in a river
Laying my ruby red eggs.
Pop, Pop, Pop!
Swimming through the current.
Woooooosh!
Escaping from the predators.

~ Taina

Oh I wish I were a raindrop

Oh I wish I were a Raindrop
A beautiful as clear as water Raindrop
Drifting from air to ocean
Traveling from Place to place
Time to time
Watching catfish all the time.

Oh I wish I were a Raindrop
Washed on to shore making mud
Waiting for a dinosaur
To step on my mud.

Oh Atlantic Salmon,
how does it feel
to swim in a river?
Is it hard to stay alive?

Oh child
It feels cold and smooth
In the river,
and yes it is hard
to stay alive
with those bears!

Oh Atlantic Salmon
Your colors are like the rainbow.

Oh child
my colors are bright and that is why
my colors
are like the rainbow.
